Ultimate Esthetics,
Using Porcelain and Composite for Beautiful and Conservative Smile Design

March 31, 2010 - 6:30 pm

Event

Restorative materials are now available to meet the most demanding esthetic and physical requirements while providing lasting beauty and luster.

This wide-screen presentation will show you a step by step process of how to photograph, plan and successfully reproduce conservative, esthetic and functional smile design cases using a combination of direct composite materials and bonded porcelain.

See how to conserve tooth structure and provide a comprehensive treatment plan while keeping total treatment fees within reach of your patients budget.

Case selection and streamlined techniques are the focus of this exciting course. See multiple clinical examples of direct anterior bonding using the latest nano-technology, minimal prep porcelain veneer and bridge techniques and a special section on 3D digital video impression techniques.

We are honored to welcome:

John Weston, DDS, FAACD

Dr. Weston is a native Californian who received his doctorate from Oklahoma University in 1989 and graduated with Honors.

As a commissioned officer in the US Navy, he received multiple advanced medical certifications while completing a General Practice Residency at Naval Hospital, San Diego and served independent duty in support of Desert Storm.

Dr. Weston is proud to have earned the credential of "Accredited Fellow" from the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry (AACD), an honor shared by fewer than 51 clinicians world-wide. He is past Chair of the AACD Professional Education Committee and has served two terms as an elected member to the Board of Directors.

He is an Accreditation and Fellowship Examiner and is now serving on the American Board of Cosmetic Dentistry.

Dr. Weston lectures nationally and internationally, publishes articles, evaluates new dental products and has been practicing in La Jolla for the past 20 years with an emphasis in reconstructive and esthetic dentistry. He is owner and director of Scripps Center for Dental Care, a multi-specialty dental center located at Scripps Memorial Hospital, La Jolla CA.
